TO BUILD TWELVE ENGINES.

Richmond Locomotive Works Secures a Big Contract.

The Richmond Locomotive- and Machine-Works has, after competing with all the other locomotive builders in the country, secured a contract to build twelve compound engines for the Southern rallway.

The engines are to be extra heavy machines, and two of them will be specially built for passenger service and equipped with all the latest improved machinery for fast travel. The value of the order is about $150,000, and employment will be given to a large number of machinists and mechanics who are now out of work.

Leever Coming Here.

Leever, the crack pitcher, who has been teaching school in Ohio, has been heard from, and he will be here to-day. "Reddy" Foster is playing the outfield in excellent fashion. He wants to continue out there. Why not give him a chance there? He can capture the flies chance there? He can capture the files and protect his territory all right and he has a great arm. He is a good batter, too, and so is Schabel, and by keeping both men in the game at the same time, the hit column will be swelled.

THE EASTERN SHORE.

The Last Day of Norfolk Presbytery. A Peace-Keeper.

The Norfolk Presbytery closed its spring session here yesterday to meet in regular session next fall in Brambleton. The attendance of ministers and ruling-elders was unusually large, and the business sessions and religious exercises were wellattended throughout the meeting. Many of the members brought their wives with them, and all seemed to enjoy their stay in this beautiful bayside town. The ministers and elders all left for their homes yesterday, except the for their homes yesterday, except the Rev. Dr. W. S. Lacy, of Norfolk; the Rev. William Chinn, of Suffolk, and the Rev. A. S. Venable, of Northampton, who remain here to take part in the installation of the Rev. J. H. Hender-lite to-morrow morning at Makemie church, at Accomac Courthouse, and to-morrow night at the Onancock Presby-terian church.

terian church. Mention has been frequently made in Mention has been frequently made in this correspondence of the peaceful condition of affairs that has prevailed in the waters of Tangier and Pocomoke sounds for the past two seasons. A vigorous and fearless policy has put an end to the petty warfare that used to rage every season between the Maryland oyster-pirates and the Virginia cyster-police-boats. About three years ago the Board of the Chesapeake and its Tributaries purchased in New York a fast-saling little steamer of light draught, which they christened with the name of Accomack, and they chose as her commander Captain James H. Costin, son of that gallant ex-Confederate soldier. Colonel Ellyson Costin, formerly of Northampton, but now residing in Washington city. Captain Costin was at the time first officer on one of the passenger steamers of the New York, Philadelin the control of the passenger steamers of the New York, Philadelin the control of the passenger steamers of the New York, Philadelin the control of the passenger steamers of the New York, Philadelin the control of the passenger steamers of the New York, Philadelin the control of the passenger steamers of the New York, Philadelin the control of the passenger steamers of the New York, Philadelin the control of the passenger steamers of the New York, Philadelin the control of the passenger steamers of the New York, Philadelin the control of the passenger steamers of the New York, Philadelin the control of the passenger steamers of the New York, Philadelin the control of the passenger steamers of the New York, Philadelin the control of the passenger steamers of the New York, Philadelin the control of the passenger steamer of the phia and Norfolk railroad, plying be-tween Cape Charles and Norfolk, and had the reputation of being a bold and experienced seaman. The Eastern Shore people who were acquainted with Cap-tain Costin knew that the board had selected the right man for the place, and subsequent events have vindicated the wisdom of the selection. From the day that Captain Costin assumed com-mand of the Accomack the Maryland pirates ceased their incursion into Vir-ginia waters, and uninterrupted peace has reigned in Tangler and Pocomoke phia and Norfolk railroad, plying behas reigned in Tangier and Pocomoke sounds, which had hitherto been the sounds, which had hitherto bees scene of so many bloodless battles.

In connection with this, it may be stated that there is now the finest strike of young oysters in Tangier and Pocomoke sounds ever seen there by any man now living, and if conditions shall continue favorable, and the right policy be pursued, there is a fine prospect for an unprecedented yield of oysters in these waters in the next few years.

Captain Costin attributes this encouraging condition of the oyster-grounds in these waters to the strict enforcement of the cull law, which he considers one of the most important provisions of the present oyster law. With a rigid enforcement of the cull law and the repeal of the specific tax of 40 cents on every hundred dollars' worth of oysters taken by tongmen, and the substitution of a tax of 32 per season for every tongman, he thinks the revenue from this source would be greatly increased. At any rate, he thinks the experiment worth trying.

LOUISVILLE, KY., April 24.—A special to the Evening Post from Pikeville, Ky., saya: News comes here from Beaver Creek, about thirty mile: distant, of a terrible casuality. While Tom Darben, a logging-man, was absent yesterday chopping wood his mountain home was burned and his wife and children were roasted alive. Five blackened bodies were found in the debris.

MISAPPROPRIATION OF FUNDS. Atlanta Shocked by Defalcation of n Bank Cashler.

ATLANTA, GA., April 24 .- A profound sensation was created to-day by the announcement that Harry W. Cassin, cashier of the Georgia Loan, Savings and Banking Company, had misappropriated some $45,000 of the funds of that institution. Cassin has always been known as a young man of exemplary habits and fine business qualifications.

Cashier Cassin applied the funds of the bank to private enterprises in which he was led to invest and lest all. He sent good money after bad, until finally his defalcations reached the sum already stated, and discovery followed.

The friends and relatives of the young man have made up the shortage, and the bank will not lose a dollar of the sum Young Cassin will not be prose His connection with the ban ceased yesterday, and he will begin life anew in Atlanta.

MOBILE, ALA., April 24.—The fourth day's session of the International Con-MOSILE, ALA. April 12. The day's session of the International Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association, was opened this morning with devotional exercises conducted by Colored-Secretary Hunton, of Richmond, Va., and Dr. Scoffeld continued his Bible-study course. He was followed by Mr. Measer, of Chicaro, who called on the Resolution Committee to read that portion of their report which deals with the work of the International Committee. The resolutions called for the raising and expenditure of $2,300 for the remainder of the current year, making a total of $90,000, the same amount as that raised for 1895. An effort will be made to raise this money.

The Agricultural Experiment Station has received from the United States Department of Agriculture a considerable quantity of susar-beet seed for distribution among Virginia farmers. These seed are the choice kind grown by the Nebraska sugar-beet growers for the large and successful factories operated at Norfolk and Grand Isle, Neb. A sufficient quantity for test will be sent to applicants desiring them, so long as the supply lasts, with instructions for culture.

trip to New York than in any other taken by the battalion during the whole time that he has been connected with it. The very liberal subscriptions to the expense fund have greatly lessened the labors and responsibilities incident to the undertaking, and absolutely nothing stands in the way now of a most successful and enjoyable experience. Even the little cloud on the horizon, nated to the colored battalion, has been dissipated, by an order issued by the Governor yesterday afternoon appointing Major Cutchins to the command of the Virginia contingent, thus giving him precedence over Major Johnson, commandant of the colored battalion, who is the ranking major in the State.

The Blues will leave at 8:40 o'clock this morning o't the second section of the regular north-bound train. Arriving in New York, they will march at once to their quarters in the Hotel Vendome. On Monday no regular programme will be nated to the colored battallon, has been
